“Equally the lesser known resorts and villages, such as Champagny en Vanoise, Oz en Oisans and Orelle have become very popular with our clients as they access the main ski domains at very affordable prices and with the flexible self-drive arrangement clients can be sure to avoid the risk of ash clouds,” says Joanna Yellowlees Bound, CEO, Erna Low. “But while we are well known for our strength in France providing good quality, value-for-money holidays, our clients want the same experience in Switzerland, Austria and Italy. This year we have expanded this part of our portfolio substantially with properties in the best resorts which we know will satisfy this demand. It’s all about choice after all!”

Erna Low continues to offer great, tailor made, boutique packages to the USA and Canada where the skiing and hospitality is legendary. From Whistler to Aspen, from Copper to Vail, skiers will discover a new experience when they go stateside; holidays from as little as £878 p/p for 7 days in Tremblant, for departures on 7th Dec including flights and transfers.
